Our bi-folding door systems.

Aluminium bi-folding doors are a revolutionary product that has rapidly grown in popularity over the past ten years. Aluminium is undoubtedly the most suitable material for the manufacture of bi-folding doors, it is both strong and lightweight, it will not contract or expand in extreme weather conditions, and it is almost maintenance free, plus aluminium can be powder coated to any colour.

We offer two industry leading folding door systems, the Schüco system is the finest bi-folding door manufactured in the UK. The Schüco system is fully adjustable due to its superb engineering and design and allows us to offer the largest bi-folding door panels in the market place.

The Smart system boasts many of the same benefits, the main difference being that it has stricter size limitations meaning individual panels cannot be manufactured as tall or as wide as the Schüco, this is however reflected in the price, meaning the Smart is a more cost effective option than the Schüco.

Our sliding patio door systems.

We offer a range of sliding patio doors, each offering their own benefits and unique selling points.

The guidelines below explain the key differences between the door types.

A traditional sliding door -

The Smart system is our best-selling patio door it's a wonderful product offering slim sightlines and large glass areas within individual panels capable of being made well over two metres

Lift and slide patio doors are heavy-duty sliding doors, which are effortless to operate as the door glides on lifted ball bearings, a smooth quiet movement that defies the size of the glass wall that is sliding. This Schüco system can be dropped down into the track so it locks in any open position, ideal for parties or when children are playing in and around the huge glass areas.
